Tip of the Week

LegalTrac & The Wheel of Topics (Tip of the Week)

POSTED ON FEBRUARY 27, 2015    UPDATED ON MARCH 2, 2015

By Ken Fox

LegalTrac is an American-based index of journal articles, legal reviews, and news sources, including materials from the Commonwealth, EU, and elsewhere. As of February 27 it contains 1,810,147 records published from 1980 to 2015, including many full-text articles.

In Saskatchewan, LegalTrac can be accessed via the public library system. In Regina, go to the Regina Public Library site, navigate to E-Library Services, then scroll down to the list of "Categories" and find Law, and link to LegalTrac. You will need to enter your Library card number and PIN – contact the RPL for assistance.

For other parts of the province, access your regional library system and follow a process similar to the above. Ok, just to make things easy, here are the linking pages to access LegalTrac from each of Saskatchewan's seven Regional Library systems:

- Lakeland Library Region (North Battleford area),
- Wapiti Regional Library (Prince Albert area),
- Wheatland Regional Library (Saskatoon area),
- Parkland Regional Library (Yorkton area),
- Chinook Regional Library (Swift Current area),
- Palliser Regional Library (Moose Jaw area),
- Southeast Regional Library (Weyburn area),
- and Pahkisimon Nuye?ah Library System (Northern Saskatchewan)

I am in Saskatoon, so I will go through the Reference Databases page on the SPL site, and find
